PITTSBURGH — This city jumped into action multiple times recently amid rumors that buses of migrants would be arriving here from the U.S.-Mexico border. The emergency operations center and Red Cross were activated, temporary camps for men and women and children were identified, and interpreters from throughout Southwestern Pennsylvania were put on standby.

The buses never arrived, a setback for Pittsburgh-area leaders who are out to prove that just about anyone is welcome in their neighborhoods.

"We are not here to reject any immigration. As a matter of fact, we want to make this the most safe, welcoming, thriving place in America, and you can't do that without immigration," Pittsburgh Mayor Ed Gainey (D) said in an interview, adding that he does not make distinctions on the basis of someone's immigration status or how the person entered the country. "Why wouldn't we want them?"

The reaction of Gainey, and of many other residents in these hilly, ethnically distinct neighborhoods built by the nation's initial waves of

Topeka, la capital del estado de Kansas, está ofreciendo incentivos de hasta $15,000 dólares para que los migrantes hispanos se muden a ella debido a la inyección económica que esto representaría para la ciudad.

La entrega de incentivos se da a través de un reembolso, el cual es posible gracias al programa 'Choose Topeka', o 'Elige Topeka' en español. Este programa está disponible para los migrantes que Cabe mencionar que los inmigrantes indocumentados no pueden participar en el programa de reembolsos. Además, las autoridades hacen énfasis en que Topeka no es una ciudad santuario, lo que significa que no salvaguardan el bienestar de los inmigrantes irregulares, pero tampoco los atacan.

Dicho esto, ¿qué se necesita para ser parte del programa Choose Topeka? A continuación, te explicamos.

TOPEKA, KANSAS La "hispanización" de la mitad de América

Erik Bovell ha encontrado su lugar en el mundo en Topeka, Kansas, a miles de kilómetros de las grandes urbes de Estados Unidos -Miami, Nueva York o Los Angeles- donde los inmigrantes venezolanos son legión. "Es una ciudad pacífica, las casas son baratas, los colegios son buenos y mis hijos lo adoran", dice este ingeniero de Caracas de 39 años. Su traslado a Kansas no fue decisión fortuita o fruto de una casualidad. La ciudad lleva dos años ofreciendo un incentivo de 15.000 dólares a inmigrantes que quieran instalarse en la capital de Kansas. Buscan diversidad y trabajadores extranjeros cualificados para paliar el más que palpable problema demográfico que enfrentan.

De acuerdo a las proyecciones del censo de EEUU, la población blanca no hispana disminuirá casi un 10% para el año 2050 mientras que la hispana aumentará un 94%, ocupando casi un tercio de la población y rondando los 100 millones de personas.

"Necesitamos que la gente se mude a nuestra ciudad. Si no, corremos el riesgo de volver a estancarnos", explica Bob Ross, vicepresidente de marketing y eventos de la Greater Topeka Partnership, la entidad que está trabajando con la Alcaldía de Topeka para atraer talento extranjero.

Necesitaban reinventarse para atraer a gente como Bovell y su familia, casado y con dos hijos de 14 y 11 años. En diciembre de 2019 pusieron en marcha un programa con los 15.000 dólares de incentivos para vivienda y ya se han mudado 118 familias a la capital del Estado. Su esperanza es atraer a otras 50 familias más por año.

A cambio no solo ofrecen la ayuda económica para la compra o alquiler de vivienda, sino un programa de inmersión en español en los colegios públicos -algo pionero en Kansas-, un festival dedicado a la comunidad hispana y una oferta gastronómica que está tratando de seguir los pasos de las grandes urbes. Hay restaurantes griegos, mexicanos e incluso un local de tapas españolas.

Cuentan además con el incentivo de otros estados similares: la vida allí es barata. La clásica casa americana, con canchales de baloncesto en la rampa del garaje y un jardín se puede conseguir por unos 150.000 dólares de media.

El problema es levantar la losa de los estereotipos que pesan sobre la región. "Hay una percepción negativa sobre Kansas", indica. "Nos tachan de ser un fly over state (estados del interior del país) esencialmente aburrido y poco diverso", explica Bovell. "Es todo lo contrario, el americano aquí es muy abierto y muy dado a ayudarte, incluso si no hablas el idioma", expresa el venezolano. "Quieren diversificar su cultura, con un interés vivo de que sus hijos aprendan español". ■

Topeka, the capital of Kansas, is offering up to $15,000 in incentives for people to move there and boost the local economy.

The delivery of incentives is given through a refund, which is possible thanks to the 'Choose Topeka' program. This program is available to anyone with the right to work in the US, has a job offer from a participating employer, and has rented or purchased a house in the area. If a person qualifies, there are additional requirements that quickly change once enrolled in the program. 'Choose Topeka' is not an option for undocumented immigrants, and city officials have emphasized that Topeka is not a sanctuary city.

What are the requirements to participate in the program?

To be eligible for the Choose Topeka program, you must have a job offer from an employer that is a member. You cannot be a resident of Topeka, and if you accept the Pagos del Seguro Social: ¿Quiénes se beneficiarán del aumento del COLA de 2024 antes de que termine 2023?

La SSA ya ha dado a conocer el aumento a COLA para 2024. No obstante, hay beneficiarios que recibirán el pago con aumento antes de fin de año.

Todos los años, la Administración del Seguro Social (SSA, por sus siglas en inglés) realiza un aumento a los pagos del Programa del Seguro Social con el objetivo de evitar pérdidas adquisitivas para los beneficiarios cuando la inflación es alta.

A este aumento se le conoce como Ajuste por Costo de Vida (COLA), mismo que se calcula con base al Índice de Precios al Consumidor para Trabajadores Asalariados en Zonas Urbanas y Trabajadores Administrativos (CPI-W). Para ello, la SSA compara el CPI-W del tercer trimestre del año anterior con el del tercer trimestre del año en curso. El resultado será el aumento al COLA para el siguiente año.

De acuerdo con el anuncio oficial de la Administración, el aumento al COLA para 2024

EE. UU. ofrece 15 mil dólares a trabajadores que se muden a Topeka, Kansas

La iniciativa 'Choose Topeka' se une a una creciente tendencia global de ciudades que ofrecen incentivos financieros para atraer nuevos habitantes a sus comunidades.

Por:
Redacción Tendencias

En un esfuerzo por estimular el crecimiento económico y atraer a nuevos residentes, la ciudad de Topeka, ubicada en el estado de Kansas, ha lanzado un programa pionero llamado 'Choose Topeka' (Elige Topeka). Este programa, financiado por múltiples fuentes, tiene como objetivo incentivar a trabajadores y sus familias a mudarse a esta encantadora ciudad del medio oeste de Estados Unidos.

→ ¿Le negaron la visa a la 'Barbie colombiana' por "bonita, paísa y operada"?

La iniciativa 'Choose Topeka' se une a una creciente tendencia global de ciudades que ofrecen incentivos financieros para atraer nuevos habitantes a sus comunidades. Sin embargo, Topeka ha llevado este concepto un paso más allá al ofrecer un incentivo económico bastante generoso a aquellos que cumplan con los requisitos establecidos.

El programa ofrece dos opciones de incentivos a los participantes. Primero, aquellos que califiquen pueden recibir hasta 10,000 dólares para cubrir los gastos de alquiler durante su primer año en la ciudad. Esta suma, equivalente a aproximadamente 42,159.100 pesos colombianos, proporciona un alivio financiero significativo a aquellos que elijan Topeka como su nuevo hogar. Además, para aquellos que deseen establecerse a largo plazo, el programa ofrece hasta 15,000 dólares, aproximadamente 63,222.150 pesos colombianos, para ayudar en la compra de una vivienda en la ciudad.

Topeka, Kansas, bets on economic incentives to attract new Latino residents

Venezuelan Erick Bovell is one of about 100 new residents who have relocated under a program providing money to those who rent or buy homes and work in the city

Published October 17, 2023

The State Capitol in Topeka, Kansas, in 2020.

The city of Topeka, Kansas, wants people to move there — and it has been offering economic incentives to attract new residents and workers, including Latino and immigrant families.

Under the incentives program, known as Choose Topeka, people like Erick Bovell can receive up to $15,000 if they rent or buy homes in the city and are employed by local businesses that partner with the program, with a minimum salary requirement of $50,000 a year.

Qualifying applicants must have permission to work in the U.S., meaning the incentives are not available for undocumented immigrants.

Bovell, a Venezuelan immigrant who moved to Topeka two years ago, said he got a $10,000

Topeka, la capital del estado de Kansas, está ofreciendo incentivos de hasta $15,000 dólares para que los migrantes hispanos se muden a ella debido a la inyección económica que esto representaría para la ciudad.

La entrega de incentivos se da a través de un reembolso, el cual es posible gracias al programa ‘Choose Topeka’, o ‘Elige Topeka’ en español. Este programa está disponible para los migrantes que alquilen o compren una vivienda en el corazón del Medio Oeste.

Cabe mencionar que los inmigrantes indocumentados no pueden participar en

A big uptick in undocumented immigrants has overwhelmed officials in many US cities. But business leaders in Topeka, Kansas, find themselves in a very different situation. They're reaching out to legal immigrants, paying a select few up to $15,000 to move to Topeka. Bob Ross of the Greater Topeka Partnership describes the program to The World's Marco Werman.

Migrantes hispanos reciben hasta $15 000 dólares por vivir en esta ciudad

Publicado hace 2 semanas el 20/10/2023 - 5:30 pm
Por Marisela Jiménez

El programa "Choose Topeka", en Kansas, persigue el objetivo de generar ingresos económicos para el estado. En este sentido, se están ofreciendo hasta $15 000.00 USD a los migrantes hispanos para que se muden allí.

Resulta válido destacar que este interesante programa se asocia con empleadores del condado de Shawnee. Todo ello para seleccionar profesionales talentosos dispuestos a vivir en Topeka.

Estamos hablando de una oferta dirigida a migrantes legales que deseen comprar una vivienda o alquilarla en el centro de la ciudad. Sin embargo, hay que dejar claro que no pueden participar inmigrantes indocumentados.

Ciudad de EE.UU atrae a trabajadores latinos con plan de apoyo económico

Asociado con empleadores que otorgan fondos para adquirir vivienda.

Por  Adayris Castillo Publicado el 10/19/2023

La mayoría de los trabajadores y profesionales hispanos buscan asentarse en un lugar que les permita desarrollarse a nivel financiero y social. Frente a esto, algunos gobiernos locales de Estados Unidos, buscan incentivar a los inmigrantes a que se establezcan en espacios donde puedan evolucionar en diferentes aspectos de su vida.

La ciudad de Topeka, capital del estado de Kansas, tiene un programa laboral que invita a los extranjeros a mudarse junto a sus familiares. Este lugar es conocido por ser el centro de la diversidad cultural, el entretenimiento y la historia.

En la actualidad, es uno de los centros económicos más importantes para la región del

The "Choose Topeka" program, in Kansas, pursues the goal of generating economic income for the state. In this sense, up to $15,000.00 USD is offered to Hispanic migrants to move there.

It should be noted that this interesting program is with employers in Shawnee County. All this to select talented professionals willing to live in Topeka.

We are talking about an offer aimed at legal migrants who want to buy a house or rent it in the city center. However, it should be clear that undocumented immigrants cannot participate.

However, as usual, those interested in qualifying for the program must meet certain requirements.

Una ciudad en EE.UU paga hasta 15 mil dólares a los latinos que se muden a ella

Una ciudad de Estados Unidos tiene un programa de incentivos para atraer nuevos residentes, incluidas familias latinas e inmigrantes, que deseen mudarse a ella.

Bajo este programa, los solicitantes que cumplan con los requisitos pueden recibir hasta $15,000 si alquilan o compran una vivienda y son empleados de empresas locales asociadas al programa, con un salario mínimo requerido de $50,000 al año.

Se trata de Topeka, ciudad capital del estado del estado de Kansas. Está situada a orillas del río Kansas en la parte central del condado de Shawnee, en el centro de los Estados Unidos.

Este incentivo, financiado por la ciudad y las empresas participantes, ha sido un atractivo para personas como Erick Bovell, un inmigrante venezolano que se mudó a Topeka hace dos años y recibió $10,000 después de comprar una vivienda, según dijo a la cadena Telemundo.

El programa está dirigido a aquellos que tienen permiso para trabajar en Estados Unidos, lo que significa que los inmigrantes indocumentados no pueden optar a estos incentivos.

El programa "Choose Topeka" se puso en marcha en 2019 para apoyar a los empleadores locales y promover el desarrollo económico de la ciudad. Hasta la fecha, ha ayudado a atraer a cerca de 100 personas y familias a Topeka, lo que ha

¿Dónde vivir en EEUU? Elige Topeka, te paga por vivir allí

3 de noviembre de 2023 por Redacción Mi Gente Cuba

¿Te imaginas mudarte a una ciudad donde te paguen por hacerlo? Pues eso es lo que ofrece Topeka, la capital del estado de Kansas en Estados Unidos. Si eres un migrante latino, incluyendo los de origen cubano, y quieres conocer una nueva cultura, esta puede ser tu oportunidad. En este artículo te contamos todo lo que necesitas saber sobre Topeka y su programa "Elige Topeka" (Choose Topeka), que tiene como objetivo aumentar el número de residentes latinos en la ciudad.

¿Qué significa Topeka?

El nombre "Topeka" proviene de la lengua Kansa-Osage y significa "lugar donde cavamos papas" o "un buen lugar para cavar papas". Los Kansa-Osage son una tribu nativa americana que habitaba la región antes de la llegada de los colonos europeos. Topeka es una ciudad con una rica historia y cultura, que refleja la diversidad de sus

City of Topeka in Kansas has the mission of improving the presence Latina in her community. The state capital, which currently has a predominantly Caucasian population, is seeking to diversify its demographics. We Latinos could benefit from new economic incentives.

The program "Choose Topeka" is a dynamic partnership with employers that attracts professionals who want to move or open businesses in the city and the broader community of the Shawnee County.

The benefits of being chosen include up to $10,000 in financing for lease payments during the first year and up $15,000 on the purchase of a house.

Employers can also opt for a 50% match on their funds. After the inaugural year, GO Topeka/JEDO will even intervene with a 50% refund of the total relocation incentives.

Topeka is home to more than 126,000 residents, and almost 15% have their roots in Latin Americareported Telemundo.

"I love the city. It is quiet, without traffic, the crime level is zero," said Venezuelan Erick Bovell, a Topeka resident. He stated that after a month of buying a house, received a check in the mail for $10,000.

And it's not just about financial incentives: Education is also on the table. Washburn University is awarding scholarships to students from families with a combined income of less than $75,000 a year.

It is important to highlight that the Topeka incentives are not open to undocumented immigrants, since It is not a sanctuary city.

City of Topeka Requirements

The program has specific requirements:

- the new employer must be part of the program,
- have full-time residence in Topeka,
- buy or rent a home in Shawnee County for a minimum of one year,
- have eligibility for employment and
- complete an election form "Choose Topeka" after a year.

Topeka: La ciudad de EEUU que atrae a los latinos con incentivos económicos

26 octubre, 2023 Semanario Argentino MUNDO SOCIEDAD

En busca de un lugar que les ofrezca un camino hacia el progreso tanto financiero como social, la mayoría de los trabajadores y profesionales hispanos encuentra un atractivo hogar en ciudades que los apoyan y valoran su contribución. En este contexto, gobiernos locales en los Estados Unidos están adoptando medidas para alentar a los inmigrantes a establecerse en espacios que fomenten su crecimiento y bienestar.

Dreaming of a fresh start? These towns and cities will pay you as much as $15,000 to move there.

- Places across the US offer cash, homes, and other perks to lure remote workers and other relocators.
- Insider rounded up the states, cities, and towns that are rewarding people to move there.
- The requirements to claim the incentives vary from full-time residency to a real-estate purchase.

Remote work and the search for affordable housing have permanently reshaped where people live, and cities across the US are noticing.

A number of places are offering new residents big incentives, such as cash or free land.

Lillian Griffith, a 25-year-old data engineer, moved from Alpharetta, Georgia, to Tulsa, Oklahoma, in August 2022 to take advantage of the Tulsa Remote program, which granted her $10,000 simply for relocating to the city.

9 U.S. Cities That Will Pay You to Move There in 2023

Elizabeth Fazzare
March 16, 2023

The Shoals, Alabama

Median Home Rent (per month): $1,056
Median Home Value: $59,787

About two hours northwest of Birmingham and two hours southwest of Nashville is The Shoals, an area of Alabama near the Tennessee border (and river, as seen in the photograph) that is known for its historic music scene (stars like Aretha Franklin, Bob Dylan, and the Rolling Stones made hit records at the local FAME Studios). The region comprises four cities: Florence, Muscle Shoals, Sheffield, and Tuscumbia. Move to any of them as a remote worker from anywhere outside of the state's Colbert and Lauderdale counties and the Shoals Economic Development Authority will award you up to $10,000, with the conditions that you make at least $52,000 a year and are able to relocate within six months of acceptance to the Remote Shoals program. Grant payments will be made in increments: 25% immediately to help with relocation, another 25% after six months, and the last half at the year mark in your new town.

Tempted to move somewhere new? Why not make some money at the same time? In recent years, a new trend has emerged in the United States, with cities, regions and states paying people to move—in addition to other financial perks. While these incentives might have once been reserved for places trying to lure high-profile corporations, today, those places are trying to attract new residents and giving the money to people seeking a fresh start.

Would YOU move to another state if you were paid? Cities in Alabama, Georgia, Kansas and West Virginia and other states are offering cash and homebuyer incentives of up to $15,000 for newcomers

- Cities and states across the US are offering incentives to lure remote workers
- They hope to boost economies by bringing in new residents with jobs
- Many of the programs have strict requirements and application process

Following the rise in remote work, some US cities and states are shelling out cash and other incentives to lure new residents.

Tulsa, Oklahoma, is offering $10,000 to remote workers who move there. West Virginia offers $12,000 and two years of free outdoor gear rental. Buy a house in southwest Michigan, and the state might help with $15,000.

However, experts warn that the programs often come with strict conditions, and say anyone who wants to take advantage should carefully read the fine print before pulling up stakes and moving on a whim.

Many of the relocation programs require applicants to already have a job working remotely for a company based elsewhere, and sometimes the incentives are tied to buying a house in the area.

10 States (and Cities) That Pay You to Move There

Published by Ryan Castillo on April 17, 2023

Reading Time: 10 minutes

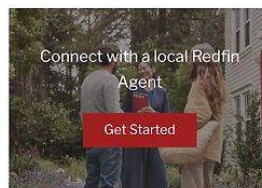

As remote work continues to be a viable option for many people, it has opened up opportunities for people to live and work from anywhere without being tied to a physical office location. With this flexibility, many individuals have started to explore new cities and states to call home. But before you make a snap decision and pack up for the road, did you know that some cities and states have created incentive programs for relocation? That's right – there are a number of cities and states that will pay you to move there. But is it true? And if it is, which states will pay you to live there? And how much do they pay?

The truth is that many states and cities could benefit from a larger tax base. So, to attract more people to their city, local governments are paying remote workers to move to their area. Plus, a few states will even pay you to live there if you accept a local job, so you don't necessarily have to be a remote worker, either.

Whether you're moving across the country for a change of scenery or the financial incentives of these programs sound appealing, there may be a few locations on this list that could be the ideal next step for you. Find out more about places that pay you to live there and the incentives they offer.

Looking for a change of scenery? Well, if you're itching to try out a new city, you're in luck — several government incentive programs across the country will pay newcomers to move there. Some programs specifically target remote workers, while others are open to anyone looking to put down roots elsewhere.

Below is a list of five U.S. cities that will pay residents to move there in 2023, and here's what it's like to actually do it.

Kansas has many cities that would love to show you what they have to offer.

Topeka, which is Kansas' fifth-largest city, features a Choose Topeka program in which they'll pay you up to $15,000 to work within Shawnee County, or even live there and work remotely, with different restrictions.

If you're looking for something a little more rural, Lincoln, Kansas, offers free land to qualified new residents. According to its website, you'll be able to see the buffalo roam from your home on the range, should you take Lincoln up on its offer.

You'll have to comply with the city's requirements for building and inhabiting a home within set time parameters. Contact Lincoln City Hall for full details.

Lincoln (pop. 1,209) isn't the only small, rural Kansas town offering free home sites. If you're interested in calling Kansas home, check out:

Get Paid To Relocate: 7 States With Towns That'll Pay Remote Workers Cash To Live There

Towns and cities across the U.S. are recruiting remote-working professionals with their own type of want ads. Offering stacks of cash and other goodies as incentives, the communities' outreach programs invite remote workers—and their out-of-state paychecks—to move in. The newcomers' role: stimulating the economy, bolstering the population and reinvigorating the local culture.

One Family Gets $7,000 to Relocate From Florida to Small-town Indiana

Perry County, in southwestern Indiana, is one area offering incentives for relocation. The rural county is home to roughly 19,000 people.

"My focus is growing our population," says Erin Emerson, CEO and president of Perry County Development Corporation. "People have moved out of the area while local residents are aging, so we must bring people here."

Ryan Kolter and his family took Perry County up on its offer in June. They previously lived in Sanford, Florida, a small city about 25 miles north of Orlando. Kolter says the family's rent in Sanford was about to jump by 25%. The cost of living was getting prohibitively high, with Sanford's grocery prices 3% above the national average, according to data from Payscale. In southwestern Indiana, groceries cost 8% less than the average.

"I have two teenagers who go through six gallons of milk per week," Kolter says.

The $7,000 cash incentive got the Kolters' attention, but the more they learned about Perry County, the more they found to like. The area's good schools, affordable housing and higher level of safety also appealed to them, says Kolter.

So far, the family is happy they made the move. While they miss Florida beaches, they feel that having a lower cost of living, a safe neighborhood and extended family living nearby outweigh the benefits of their former city.

These Towns Will Actually Pay You to Move There

You're telling me that the folks who run certain towns and cities are willing to actually PAY people to move there?

Well, that's a new one!

And if you've been looking for a change of scenery, you might want to consider one of these places that are handing out some pretty nice bonuses to folks looking to relocate.

Take a look at the list below and see if any of these places suit your fancy.

Topeka, Kansas

The capital city of Kansas will pay people up to \$15,000 to move there if their employer participates in a specific program.

There's an application process and you have to commit to living in Topeka for a year but there are also some employers that will match the money, so it's possible to make double the money!

Look into it!

Get Paid to Move: 9 Cities that Pay You to Move There in 2023

Home | Get Paid To

Last Updated: July 11, 2023

Offering one of the most lucrative incentive packages out there, Topeka, Kansas is giving on-site workers a chance to receive up to $15,000 in funding for relocating there under the Choose Topeka incentive.

Unlike other incentives on this list that involve remote work, Shawnee County is looking to encourage job opportunities in the local area.

This also aims to rejuvenate the real estate market by including additional perks for prospective homeowners up to $5,000 compared to their renting counterparts.

This should cover the relocation expenses retroactively, which isn't too bad in this economy!

What You'll Need:

- Be eligible to work in the US.
- Confirm the employer's participation in the incentive.
- Move to Topeka for a full-time, on-site employment.
- Within a year after being hired or moving, buy or rent a home in Shawnee County and use it as your primary residence.
- Complete the "Choose Topeka" survey.
- Participate in a "Choose Topeka" immersion program.
- Send your application before you permanently relocate there.

What You'll Get:

- Up to $10,000 in funds for renting an apartment or a house.
- Up to $15,000 in funds for a home purchase.

14 States That Will Pay You to Move There

Personal Finance / By Sam Wilson / May 8, 2023

The pandemic-driven remote work trend is here to stay, creating a new level of mobility for many workers. If you're one of those fresh mobile workers, you may be looking for a living environment with lower costs and lower stress. Some of those environments are also looking for you. Towns all over the country are making an active effort to attract new residents. Some states will even pay you to move there.

Table of Contents

14 states that will pay you to live there

For many years, states and towns across the country have watched their best-educated citizens leave to seek their fortunes in major cities. Now they are launching bids to bring people back. Many of these areas offer a far more relaxed living environment and much lower housing and general living expenses than major cities.

They include:

- West Virginia
- Kansas

We've all dreamed at least once about packing up our bags and moving to a completely different corner of the planet – whether to enjoy the freedom of a remote job or to simply answer the call of adventure.

4. Topeka, Kansas, USA

A pilot program called Choose Topeka is luring those who agree to relocate to and work in the Kansas state capital with a payment of $15,000 (for those who purchase a home in Topeka) or $10,000 (for renters). Started in 2020 and still ongoing, the program seeks to help grow the city's flatlining population, as well as fill vacancies in its financial services, publishing, education and government sectors.

Seven Places That Will Pay You To Relocate in 2023

Itching to relocate and want to get paid for it?

Many American states and cities are offering free housing, money, and jobs to newcomers who relocate there. Here are our top nine picks for where you should go.

1. West Virginia

George Washington National Forest, West Virginia

Want to find that slice of "almost heaven"? Look no further than West Virginia! Through Ascend West Virginia, you can get up to $12,000 for a no-strings-attached relocation. Over the course of the first year, you'll receive $10,000, and if you love your new home that much, you'll receive an additional $2,000 for your second year.

Also included in this deal is a free co-working space if you are working remotely, social programming with people in your new community, opportunities, a year's worth of outdoor gear rentals, and an "outdoor focused welcome trip" worth over $2,500. This

3. Topeka, Kansas

The capital city of Kansas has two different cash offers to those willing to relocate there. If you buy a house there within one year of relocating, you can qualify for $15,000 in cash. If you rent within a year, you can qualify for $10,000 in cash. What makes this program different than Tulsa's is that the Choose Topeka incentive is for those relocating to the city for a position there. Your new employer would have to participate in the Choose Topeka relocation incentive.

The program is in partnership with the Shawnee County employers, so you have the wiggle room to live anywhere within the county. Some of the biggest employers in the county include AT&T, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Kansas, Frito-Lay, and Goodyear Tire & Rubber.

These Places Pay You to Move There

Free Water Skiing, Other Perks Join Cash Incentives

By Lew Sichelman | Special to Banker & Tradesman | Sep 10, 2023 | Reprints | Print

The much-discussed recent exodus to the hinterlands – where professionals who can suddenly work from anywhere pack up and do so – hasn't included everyone. Those who can't afford to move have pretty much stayed put.

But some places, in need of fresh blood and a greater tax base, will actually pay you to move there, according to Redfin. An April report from the company lists several states and cities willing to help with moving expenses and other costs.

These places don't offer free rides; there are strings attached. You may be required to take a local job, for example, rather than work remotely for your current employer. But if you have a hankering to get out of Dodge, they may be worth a look-see.

Take Vermont. Earlier this year, the Green Mountain State offered two grants for new residents – one for remote workers who moved there, the other for newcomers who took jobs in-state – each worth up to $7,500. That's not enough to cover most families' moving expenses, but housing might cost less there than in your current locale. Redfin puts the median sales price of Vermont houses at $373,000, compared with $428,379 nationally.

Under the program, someone who relocated to Vermont, became a permanent resident and took a full-time job with a Vermont employer was eligible for relocation grants as long as the work paid (or exceeded) the state's livable wage of $15.33 an hour. And a remote worker grant applied to those who moved to Vermont but still worked for an out-of-state company.

Plug and Play Topeka, a global innovation platform that creates industry-specific accelerator programs, has selected Bimini Pet Health as its newest corporate partner. Bimini Pet Health is a manufacturer of pet health supplements and treats that is based in Topeka, Kansas.

The partnership will aim to research and develop new technologies to expand the product offerings to deliver a variety of highly differentiated options. Bimini Pet Health joins Plug and Play Topeka, a program of the GO Topeka economic development agency, as the program's fourth corporate partner, alongside existing founding partners Cargill, Evergy and Hill's Pet Nutrition.

"Bimini is excited to partner with Plug and Play Topeka and continue our long-standing relationship with GO Topeka as we start the next chapter of our journey," said Sam Al-Murrani, PhD, owner of Bimini, in a news release. "As a growing animal health company, our focus is to become an innovation leader while bringing more jobs to Topeka and Shawnee County [in Kansas]. We look forward to continuing to serve our city and community over the coming years, together with our partners."

Plug and Play Topeka Selects 11 Startups for 5th Cohort

March 31, 2023

Emerging companies from five countries begin the three-month animal health/ag-tech startup program in Kansas' capital city.

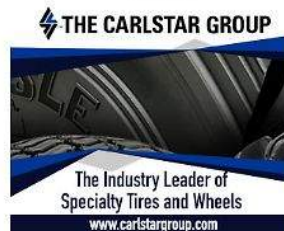

TOPEKA, Kan. – GO Topeka, the economic development group for Kansas' capital city, recently announced that Plug and Play Topeka, a global innovation platform that creates industry-specific accelerator programs, has selected 11 startups to participate in the fifth cohort of its animal health and ag-tech program. These early-to-mid-stage startups were selected following a pitch competition and hail from countries all over the world, including France, the U.K. and Israel.

Chosen by partners of the program, including Cargill, Evergy and Hill's Pet Nutrition, the startups represent a broad range of innovations in areas like supply chain, sustainability, anti-waste, new materials, and pet health and wellness. Entrepreneurs representing these startups will now participate in a three-month-long accelerator program to connect them with resources and help their businesses get off the ground.

Updated: Bene Meat Technologies registers cultured meat for use in pet food

Source: Bene Meat Technologies

11.10.2023 By Nicole Kerwin

PRAGUE – Bio-technology startup Bene Meat Technologies' (BMT) cultured meat has been registered with the European Feed Materials Register, allowing the company to produce and sell its cultured meat products to the European pet food industry. According to BMT, this makes it the only entity throughout the globe that can produce and sell its product for pet food formulas.

Originally, the company shared it had received approval from the European Union; however, the company later clarified that it has only registered its cultured meat in the European Feed Materials Register as a new feed ingredient.

"We're excited to have achieved [registration] of a new raw material from the European Feed Materials Register, binding for the entire European Union; this first is the beginning of our journey to include the production and sale of other forms of cultured meat," said Roman Kříž, managing director of BMT.

Plug and Play Topeka Selects 24 Startups for Its Animal Health, Ag-Tech Accelerator Program

Pet Product News Staff Oct 20, 2023

DCIM100MEDIAIDJI_0005.JPG

Plug and Play Topeka, a global innovation platform that creates industry-specific accelerator programs, has selected 11 animal health startups and 13 ag-tech startups for the fall 2023 cohort, company officials from GO Topeka, the economic development group for Kansas' capital city, reported. These early-to-mid-stage startups hail from more than 10 countries including the U.S., Canada, Germany, France, the U.K., and Australia, among others.

Chosen by founding partners of the program, including Cargill, Evergy, Bimini Pet Health, and Hill's Pet Nutrition, the startups represent a broad range of new innovations focused on areas like automation, soil health, pet nutrition, alternative protein, and sustainable packaging, officials said. Entrepreneurs representing these startups will now participate in a three-month-long accelerator program to connect them with resources and help their businesses grow.

The 24 startups selected for the program are:

- 5 Element Food Therapy: Nourishing pet dietary supplements containing proprietary blends of whole foods and herbs.
- Bene Meat Technologies: Czech Republic-based company producing cultivated meats.
- E-Livestock Global: A blockchain-powered, global traceability platform for healthy livestock.
- Ferma Farms: Biotech company leveraging fermentation to convert agri-food waste streams back into functional and sustainable ingredients.

Source: Plug and Play Topeka news release

GO Topeka, the economic development group for Kansas' capital city, recently announced that Plug and Play Topeka, a global innovation platform that creates industry-specific accelerator programs, has selected 11 startups to participate in the fifth cohort of its animal health and ag-tech program. These early-to-mid-stage startups were selected following a pitch competition and hail from countries all over the world, including France, the U.K. and Israel.

Chosen by partners of the program, including Cargill, Evergy and Hill's Pet Nutrition, the startups represent a broad range of innovations in areas like supply chain, sustainability, anti-waste, new materials, and pet health and wellness. Entrepreneurs representing these startups will now participate in a three-month-long accelerator program to connect them with resources and help their businesses get off the ground.

Veterinary care companies raise millions of dollars in new funding

Petfolk, a veterinary urgent and primary care company, raised $40 million in a Series B round led by Movendo Capital, CEO Audrey Wystrach told Axios. The company, which offers 24/7 virtual and instant veterinary services, has eight locations now and plans to open four more by the end of the year. The funding raise values the business at $200 million post-money, a source familiar told Axios. Existing investors, including White Star Capital and Idea Farm Ventures, also participated in the round. Funds will go toward expanding throughout the Southeast, with cities like Atlanta, Dallas, Houston, Orlando and Miami on the shortlist, Wystrach said. This comes shortly after Dutch, a pet telehealth platform, raised $18 million in Series B funding. According to Dutch's CEO, Joe Spector, a new law in California allowing veterinarians to deliver remote care without first establishing an in-

Financial Firm Looks Past Broken Escalators for Future Home in One of Largest Malls in Kansas

Topeka Company Buys Half-Full Center To Add Offices and Keep Stores Open

West Ridge Mall, with roughly 1 million square feet, is destined to be the new home of Advisors Excel's headquarters in Topeka, Kansas. (CoStar)

By Linda Moss
CoStar News

December 17, 2023 | 6:28 P.M.

It was the largest piece of commercial real estate available in the city, and the price was a bargain.

That's why Advisors Excel, a national financial and investment services firm that provides a wide range of services to individual financial professionals, said it decided to become the seemingly unlikely owner of a rundown mall spanning roughly 1 million square feet in Topeka, Kansas.

Advisors Excel plans to move its corporate headquarters to the West Ridge Mall at

Plans call for the property's conversion into a mixed-use lifestyle center.

Advisors Excel, a financial and investment services company, has acquired the West Ridge Mall in its hometown of Topeka, Kan., from Long Island, N.Y.-based Kohan Retail Investment Group for an undisclosed amount. The firm plans to convert the aging enclosed 992,000-square-foot shopping center into a mixed-use lifestyle center.

Plans by the new ownership group include converting some of the space into offices for the company's headquarters. Advisors Excel expects more than 500 of its employees to work at the renovated mall once that work is complete. The owners, led by Advisors Excel co-founders Cody Foster and David Callanan, also want to incorporate co-working spaces, entertainment, retail, dining, event and green space into their plans for the revitalized mall. New tenants and uses could include theaters, fitness centers, spas, breweries and cafes.

Topeka Retail Mall Gets Mixed-Use Renovation

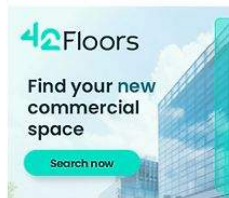

By Ioana Ginsac • December 4, 2023 • 3 mins read

Financial and investment services company Advisors Excel acquired the West Ridge Mall retail property in the company's hometown of Topeka, Kan., earlier this year. Recently, the firm also announced its significant renovation plans for the property.

Specifically, Advisors Excel plans to reposition the retail property into a mixed-use center that incorporates lifestyle offerings, such as coworking and flexible office options; entertainment; retail; dining; and green space.

"Contrary to popular belief, the American mall is not dead," said Cody Foster, co-founder of Advisors Excel. "It simply needs a facelift, which is our exact mission with this project. Developers are looking to shift shopping centers to a multipurpose lifestyle hub, incorporating leisure offerings and getting people in the door again, whether they are consumers, tenants or professionals."

Originally opened in 1988, West Ridge includes 992,000 square feet of Topeka retail space and is reportedly the third-largest enclosed mall in Kansas. Aiming to adapt to the evolving retail landscape, the redesign will feature a fresh, urban design and layout and include non-traditional mall uses, such as theaters, fitness spaces, spas, breweries, and cafes.

America's No. 1 emerging real-estate market is in Kansas. 'Life is easy over here.'

Being born and raised in a big city, Prateek Ghatage, 35, didn't expect himself to be buying his first home in a smaller city in the Midwest.

The infectious-disease physician, who grew up in Mumbai, India (population: 12.5 million), had just finished a fellowship in Vermont and moved to work at a local hospital in Topeka, Kan., in 2020.

He was initially looking for a house to buy, but he never really sunk his teeth into the process, and opted to rent instead.

"I didn't have a plan to buy. I had just come back from India a few months ago, and thought I was going to continue with the [rental] lease," which was up for renewal in early August, Ghatage told MarketWatch.

The No. 1 emerging housing market in America is in the Midwest.

Topeka, Kansas, ranked the highest among the top 20 emerging markets and is expected to do relatively well amid the tumultuous housing market compared to the rest of the country, according to the WSJ/Realtor.com Fall 2023 Emerging Housing Markets Index.

The index analyzes key housing market data, economic vitality and lifestyle metrics in order to determine which markets offer the highest quality of life, and where homes are expected to see future price appreciation.

Topeka, along with the rest of the markets on the list, is also poised to fare relatively better with

'Plug and Play Topeka' Selects 11 Startups for 5th Round of Animal Health, Ag-Tech Accelerator Program

Emerging companies from several countries begin the three-month animal health/ag-tech startup program in Kansas' capital city

TOPEKA, KAN. (PRWEB) MARCH 29, 2023

GO Topeka, the economic development group for Kansas' capital city, recently announced that Plug and Play Topeka, a global innovation platform that creates industry-specific accelerator programs, has selected 11 startups to participate in the fifth cohort of its animal health and ag-tech program. These early-to-mid-stage startups were selected following a pitch competition and hail from countries all over the world, including France, the U.K. and Israel.

Chosen by partners of the program, including Cargill, Evergy and Hill's Pet Nutrition, the startups represent a broad range of innovations in areas like supply chain, sustainability, anti-waste, new materials, and pet health and wellness. Entrepreneurs representing these startups will now participate in a three-month-long accelerator program to connect them with resources and help their businesses get off the ground.

The 11 startups selected for the program are:

- Animoscope — Offers veterinary advice to all dog and cat owners.
- Aquapak — Focuses on bringing multi-functional plastics into a circular economy.
- Curbicus — Provides a clean, compostable solution to dog waste for modern pet parents.
- FaunaLabs — FaunaLabs helps optimize animal health and welfare by delivering valuable insights to enable carers (owners, farm managers and veterinarians) with scalable fur-penetrating sensors and AI-driven predictive medicine.
- Okeanos — Okeanos can replace the majority of plastic in packaging with stone.
- Pastoral — Incentives livestock farmers to be more environmentally sustainable, providing the tools and data required to transition to low-GHG regenerative farming while generating valuable carbon credits and carbon accounting data.
- PeelON — A biodegradable packaging solution that extends the shelf-life of fresh produce by three times.
- Prevera — Provides a solution that specializes in protecting water and foods.
- Titan Bioplastics — Develops functional, sustainable materials for a wide variety of industries and applications.
- Trosten Rinnak — Provides sustainable packaging solutions for industry with a focus on compostable.

PLUGANDPLAY

Plug and Play Topeka, a global innovation platform that creates accelerator programs, has selected 11 startups to participate in the fifth cohort of its animal health and ag-tech program.

"Our goal is to help these emerging companies gain valuable resources, mentorship, and partnerships, which can ultimately bring their innovative ideas to market and make a real impact in the animal health industry," said Lindsay Lebahn, senior program manager for Plug and Play Topeka.

GO Topeka's Plug and Play Animal Health Accelerator Announces Bimini Pet Health as New Corporate Partner

The pet product manufacturer joins as the program's fourth corporate partner, along with Cargill, Evergy and Hill's Pet Nutrition

TOPEKA, KAN. (PRWEB) APRIL 27, 2023

Plug and Play Topeka, a global innovation platform that creates industry-specific accelerator programs, has selected Bimini Pet Health as its newest corporate partner. Bimini Pet Health is a Topeka-based manufacturer of pet health supplements and treats. The partnership will aim to research and develop new technologies to expand the product offerings to deliver a variety of highly differentiated options. Bimini Pet Health joins Plug and Play Topeka as the program's fourth corporate partner, alongside existing founding partners Cargill, Evergy and Hill's Pet Nutrition.

"Bimini is excited to partner with Plug and Play Topeka and continue our long-standing relationship with GO Topeka as we start the next chapter of our journey," said Dr. Sam Al-Murrani, owner of Bimini. "As a growing animal health company, our focus is to become an innovation leader while bringing more jobs to Topeka and Shawnee County. We look forward to continuing to serve our city and community over the coming years, together with our partners."

The Plug and Play Topeka accelerator aims to bring global innovation to the Midwest by facilitating opportunities for business development, mentorship, programs and proof of concepts between the selected startups and founding partners of the program. Since the start of the program in the spring of 2020, 65 startups have participated, leading to 17 pilot projects/proofs of concept, and there have been two successful partnerships between startups and corporate partners. Each year, the program develops two accelerator groups, each comprised of 10-12 animal health and ag-tech startups, who partake in the three-month-long program.

"We are excited to announce our new partnership with Bimini Pet Health," said Lindsay Lebahn, senior program manager for Plug and Play Topeka. "By combining our expertise, we aim to push boundaries and develop cutting-edge solutions that bring value to the animal health ecosystem. We look forward to collaborating and driving meaningful progress together."

Topeka is centrally located within the Kansas City Animal Health Corridor, the world's largest concentration of animal health companies and related industries. More than 300 animal health companies located between Manhattan, Kansas, and Columbia, Missouri, including four of the top 10 animal health companies in the world, generate 56% of the total animal health, diagnostics and pet food sold globally, totaling $21.5 billion in annual sales.

"It's exciting to see one of our local entrepreneurs come full circle, from starting up his own business and ending as a local brand to now joining as a corporate partner of Plug and Play's Animal Health Vertical."

TOPEKA, KANSAS, ANNOUNCES INAUGURAL 'FOR THE CULTURE KS FEST' – A CELEBRATION OF AFRICAN AMERICAN CULTURE AND HERITAGE

The three-day event takes place July 28-30 and will include music performances, expert panels, historic tours and scholarship giveaways

TOPEKA, KAN. (PRWEB) MAY 18, 2023

GO Topeka and Visit Topeka today announced their support for a new first-of-its-kind festival celebrating African American culture and heritage, coming to Kansas' capital city this summer. 'For the Culture KS Fest' (FTC KS Fest) – which will run from July 28-30, 2023, in Topeka, Kansas – will include not only musical performances and vendors, but networking and panel sessions focused on professional and personal growth for Black individuals.

"We wanted to create a sustainable art and cultural initiative for the state of Kansas that celebrates the positive influences in our local communities," said co-founder Rodney Harmon, a Topeka resident and Department of Justice Bureau of Prisons retiree, who has since dedicated his time to community volunteering and mentoring. "We've never seen Black culture represented on this scale before, and we wanted it to be more than a music festival. This is why we sought to include activities focusing on more than just performances, bringing together the intersection of art, business, health, and history of the African American community."

The festival will begin with an opening ceremony, held by local leaders from Kansas and abroad, at Topeka's Every Plaza. The three-day event will feature several musical performances from local artists: Kansas-native Justin Aarons, a Top 8 contestant on The Voice; saxophonist JahVelle, who recently performed at the NFL Draft; Topeka-native rapper Brandon 'Bizzy' Evans, and more. Discussion panels, hosted by a diverse group of experts, will range from business development to personal wellness. Additional activities include a choir hour with participation from five different churches; a two-hour African American history bus tour led by local Topeka historians Sherri Camp and Donna Rae Pearson; an art exhibit at the historic Jayhawk Theater; and scholarship giveaways of $1,000 to three local high school students.

"Our vision for the festival is to create a platform for education, dialogue and opportunity by bringing a multitude of travelers to Topeka from across the state and abroad," said co-founder Mackenzi Mondesir, a Topeka resident that has made it a priority to incorporate social good throughout his career as a financial and banking professional. "We are dedicated to providing a welcoming space for everyone across the state, and beyond, to experience the joys, history and identity of African American culture through the arts."

Topeka played a vital role in the U.S. civil rights movement. The event follows the 69th anniversary of the landmark Supreme Court ruling that ended legal segregation in public schools in May 1954 – Brown v. Board of

'Choose Topeka Relocation Incentive' will include a new program to support Veterans, college graduates and boomerang residents

TOPEKA, KAN. (PRWEB) JUNE 06, 2023

GO Topeka announced today the expansion of its $15,000 Choose Topeka Relocation Incentive. New Topeka and Shawnee County residents, and recent graduates of Washburn University, can receive up to $15,000 toward home purchases or childcare-related expenses if they work in person for a local company. A $5,000 incentive is available for Veterans and 'boomerang' residents seeking to return to the metro.

The initiative is designed to support area employers, grow the region's booming economy and address a low unemployment rate, currently at 3.5%. The incentives are available to incoming talent working for a participating Shawnee County employer, with a minimum salary requirement of $50,000 a year.

"Our Choose Topeka program has been a stunning success. We want to keep our program relevant by expanding and modifying incentives to respond to the needs of our current economy and workforce talent demands," said Trina Goss, director of business and talent initiatives for GO Topeka. "Our program was one of the first of its kind in the country. This revamped initiative will enable us to address 2023 talent needs and provide an incentive that is more flexible and responsive to the needs of both employers and incoming talent."

The 2020-2022 Choose Topeka Relocation Incentive, which featured remote work and in-person incentives, brought in 99 individuals/families, with nearly 75% working for Topeka-based companies. Those individuals make an average salary of $89,000 per year, 19% higher than the national average of $74,738. Of those who made the move, 66% purchased homes, 34% are renting and 95% still reside in Topeka, generating a $3.9 million economic impact in the first year alone.

Topeka recently ranked sixth for top U.S. emerging housing markets, according to Realtor.com and the Wall Street Journal, with affordability and demand driving the rankings. The average rent for a one-bedroom apartment in Topeka is $650, and the median house price is $169,500. Affordability has also helped propel population growth. According to U.S. Census data, Shawnee County's population increased by 2,265 residents in 2021. This was the fastest population growth recorded in 10 years. The region is also getting younger and more diverse: Shawnee County's median age is 38.4, with ages 25-44 increasing by 7.8% in 2021 and the non-white population growing by almost 7%.

Financial services company will revitalize Kansas' third-largest enclosed mall to serve as the company HQ and will include entertainment, retail, dining, corporate and green space

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 28, 2023 /PRNewswire-PRWeb/ -- GO Topeka, the economic development group for Kansas' capital city, has announced that Advisors Excel has acquired the West Ridge Mall and will establish it into a new mixed-use, lifestyle facility with dining, event, entertainment, green and corporate spaces. Advisors Excel is a Topeka, Kan.-based financial and investment services company that achieved a total production of $12.2 billion in 2022. Once operational, the converted West Ridge Mall—the third-largest enclosed mall in Kansas with 992,000 square feet—will be the company's headquarters, accommodating over 500 employees.

"Contrary to popular belief, the American mall is not dead," said Cody Foster, co-founder of Advisors Excel. "It simply needs a facelift, which is our exact mission with this project. Developers are looking to shift shopping centers to a multi-purpose lifestyle hub, incorporating leisure offerings and getting people in the door again, whether they are consumers, tenants, or professionals."
